Fingers crossed for reopening but overseas vacation travel out for Brits

Our 12th edition of PinkUK's monthly newsletter so our first birthday edition (lots of claps, please). We hope you've enjoyed the newsletters and found the information useful whatever your interests in the LGBTQ+ communities and their scenes.

As you know, there hasn't been much of a scene over the last year. In the UK, a few brief months of partial reopening of bars, hotels and B&Bs but no change on mass events such as night-clubs and prides.

A few pride festivals for 2021 have been cancelled and now a ban on international holiday travel from the UK. So we'll continue to support everyone as lockdowns are eased and look forward to better times soon!

Non-essential overseas travel is temporarily banned from the UK without proof of need to travel.

...so book a staycation?

With the UK's ban on overseas holiday travel, if you live in the UK, now is the time to book your UK holiday accommodation before the coolest places are booked.

The UK Government's 'roadmap' proposes lifting social distancing rules on 21 June and, before then, at 'Step 3' on 17 May the opening of indoor entertainment venues such as cinemas and the rest of the accommodation sector, including hotels and B&Bs.

Our travelling section lists LGBTQ+ friendly accommodation in the UK including: attractions, B&Bs, beaches, hotels, resorts and self-catering.

We have an extensive listing of self-catering holiday lets. This could be the perfect place to look for the ideal summer break:

Hot tips for a lockdown Easter

It's Easter soon... As well as it being an important religious date, it's a time of year when we delve into chocolate and lots of it... We all love a good Easter egg, and enjoying the bank holidays of the Easter season.

This year, with lockdowns slowly easing, except overseas holiday travel from the UK, you should get out and have a picnic and play some egg hunting games with your mates. Remember, though, to stick to the lockdown rules... Hopefully we will have beautiful weather over the next few weeks so we can start to see all our family and friends out enjoying life as normal.

Easter for us at Pinkuk consists of having a barbecue, a few beers and eating lots of Easter eggs. So whatever it is you're planning on doing, just make sure you give an egg to someone you love. Afterall, we all love chocolate... don't we!?!?
