As mentioned in our last newsletter, but worth saying again as we don't get that many claps (joke), we've broken through the 500+ Prides total listings for 2022.

Anyone who didn't clap then, please clap now.

We're grateful for your support and proud to make this of 595 LGBTQ+ prides and related events in 44 countries for 2022.

The good news is the growth in upcoming festivals shows how the LGBTQ+ scene is recovering after the lockdowns and other problems with the pandemic over the last two years.

Our small team collates new festivals and other LGBTQ+ events daily. We really appreciate it when festivals and other venues share updates; we hope our work provides information to guide businesses and users in the UK and world-wide on what you would like to do and with the best info at your fingertips.

It takes a bit of effort to keep this site up to date and any support is welcome, whether by advertising or donations. Also, note there are some events that do not get the airtime of the larger festivals because they appeal to issues which are more serious or sometimes very sad. One example is may17.org IDAHOBIT – the world's day to commemorate homophobia against lesbians, gays, bisexuals, trans, queers and others. The organisers chose the 17 May to commemorate the World Health Organization's decision in 1990 to declassify homosexuality as a 'mental disorder'.

Featured pride: Mablethorpe, Lincolnshire

Organisers of Mablethorpe's first Pride to celebrate the LGBTQ+ community say it's set to be a fantastic weekend full of live entertainment & music, street food, and a grand opening ceremony aimed towards the love and acceptance of people of all gender and sexual identities.

Featured venue: The Beach Hut, Anglesey, north Wales

Welcome to The Beach Hut; this little gem of gayness in Anglesey, northwest Wales, is gay-run and owned. Nestled in Marine Square, Holyhead, just off Newry beach, the owners offer a warm welcome to B&B guests and bistro diners. Open Wednesday to Sunday, and in the evenings on Fridays and Saturdays, the Beach Hut offers serve tasty and satisfying meals, using only the best local produce. Above the bistro, there's four cosy ensuite rooms for holiday-makers or a one night stop-over for guests catching the ferry to Ireland, making this the perfect base for a holiday or short stop-over on Anglesey.

Like it hard?

We don't mix our words - some LGBTQ+ people like things harder in their private lives so we are delighted that esmale, a UK gay online adult store, offered their expertise on all things on the harder fun side. It's a quick guide to pleasure and what you might need.
