We stand with the Trans community

This month, let's all give a nod to the Trans community and to Trans Day of Remembrance (TDOR) on Saturday, 20 November.

TDOR has been commemorated on this date since 1999 to remember Trans people who have been attacked in transphobic hate crimes across the world.

PinkUK is highlighting this date in the calendar for everyone in the LGBTQ+ communities, whichever community (or none) you identify with.

We encourage everyone to show solidarity with the Trans community by expressing support in social media or in anyway you can.

According to one TDOR site, 3664 trans and gender-diverse people have been reported killed across 75 countries in the 13 years up to September 2020.
